An MEID is 56 bits long (14 hex digits). It consists of three fields, including an 8-bit regional code (RR), a 24-bit manufacturer code, and a 24-bit manufacturer-assigned serial number. The check digit (CD) is not considered part of the MEID.

As of August 2006, the TIA acts as the Global Hexadecimal Administrator (GHA) to assign MEID, and the GSM Association acts as the Global Decimal Administrator
